Pet Education
Last Friday we went to Pet Education. We sat on the floor and the presenter showed us her pet. She told us about her and then she put the dog in the bed. She got a book to teach us about how to stay safe from dogs and cats. She told us to not go near dogs that are scared. When the book was finished she picked people to pat the dog, but told us to put our thumb inside out palm. There were two boys and two girls. Deniz was first to pat the dog and then the other people had a turn and after that the pet education was finished. It was very interesting.

During the Pet Care Talk I Learned :-
★ You ask the owner if you can pat the dog.
★ If you see a collar that is red and yellow that means the dog is dangerous.
★ Give the dog plenty of food.
★ Every dog should have a collar.
★ Don’t pat a dog on the head.

Victor & Victoria’s Safety Message
The right way to say hello to a dog is:-
1. Walk up slowly
2. Ask the owner if you can pat the dog.
3. Let it smell your hand
4. Stroke it gently.
If an angry dog comes to you, you –
1. Stand still.
2. Put your hands down.
3. Be quiet as a mouse.
4. Look at the ground.
